

Contact: Eric Mayne

Statement: Transmission Pump

June 30, 2016, Auburn Hills, Mich. - FCA US LLC is voluntarily recalling an estimated 26,211 vehicles in the U.S. – most of which are in dealer hands – to replace their transmission pumps.

An examination of warranty data prompted an FCA US investigation that determined the pumps in certain six-speed automatic transmissions may not conform to specifications, which could lead to propulsion loss.

FCA is unaware of any related injuries or accidents.

Affected are certain model-year 2015-16 Dodge Journey crossover vehicles, Dodge Grand Caravan and Chrysler Town & Country minivans and model-year 2016 Ram ProMaster full-size vans. An estimated 9,190 additional vehicles in Canada are also subject to recall, along with 321 vehicles in Mexico and 1,514 outside the NAFTA region.

Affected customers will be advised when they may schedule service. Customers with questions may call the FCA US Customer Care Center at 1-800-853-1403.

-###-

Additional information and news from Stellantis are available at: <https://media.stellantisnorthamerica.com>