Contact: Diane Morgan

Chrysler Group LLC's SRT (Street & Racing Technology) Brand Debuts First-Ever Advertising Campaign

- "Body and Soul" Debuts in June with .30-, .60- and .90-second spots across Cable
- A Special 2:15 Extended Version of "Body and Soul" Will Be Revealed on YouTube.com/driveSRT Starting on Friday, June 14th
- Campaign Celebrates the Relationship between the 'Maker and the Machine'

June 12, 2013, Auburn Hills, Mich. - The SRT (Street & Racing Technology) Brand is debuting its first-ever advertising campaign this summer to celebrate the legacy of its world-class performance vehicles: The Charger, Challenger, Viper, Grand Cherokee and the 300. The "Body and Soul" campaign launched on Saturday, June 8, with 30-, 60-, and 90-second spots across cable television, and continues throughout summer.

"We wanted to infuse our first-ever SRT creative campaign with grit, beauty, longing, desire and nostalgia for the tradition and history of the automobile but to also give a nod to the relationship between the machine and its maker," said Olivier Francois, Chief Marketing Officer, Chrysler Group LLC. "The Charger, Challenger, Viper, Grand Cherokee and 300 are inextricably linked not only to those who build the machines but to those who dream one day of owning one."

"'Body and Soul' personifies the connection that owners feel with their vehicle; it's that feeling of when you get behind the wheel and step on the throttle for the first time and feel the power of the engine. It's that feeling and legacy that Chrysler Group has forged with owners and their vehicles over the last century; something that SRT brand is creating with a new set of consumers for the first time," said Ralph V. Gilles, President and Chief Executive Officer – SRT Brand and Motorsports, Chrysler Group LLC. "The launch of this campaign marks a significant step forward for us and establishes the SRT brand's legacy as a vital component of our company."

The 30-, 60- and 90-second "Body and Soul" spots start with a nostalgic nod as footage flashes from the late '60s/early '70s and children are crammed in a station wagon's backseat on a long distance road-trip, parents with map in hand. It jumps to a kid wearing glasses in line at the DMV and teens cruising along Main Street on a Friday night. Scenes cut to show a young boy at an outside diner and invokes that the average 16-year-old boy in America would rather have his own set of wheels than make out with the captain of the varsity cheerleader squad.

The spot thereby seeks to answer the question: How can we desire a machine more than a human being? Close-ups of steel, carbon fiber, aluminum, and other elements are seen, which form into axles, chassis, frames and pushes to close-ups of hands and tools bending and shaping materials. It conveys that "every machine has a body. It is up to the maker to breathe life into its creation. The machine is the echo of the maker's soul."

In addition to the 30-second, 60-second and 90-second spots, a special 2:15 extended version of "Body and Soul" will be revealed on YouTube.com/driveSRT starting Friday, June 14th.

About SRT

The Chrysler Group's SRT (Street and Racing Technology) brand uses a successful product development formula featuring five proven hallmarks: awe-inspiring powertrains; outstanding ride, handling and capability; benchmark braking; aggressive and functional exteriors and race-inspired and high-performance interiors to remain true to its performance roots.

The SRT vehicle lineup features five vehicles that are world-class performance contenders and bring the latest in safety technologies and creature comforts. The 2013 Chrysler 300 SRT8, Dodge Challenger SRT8, Dodge Charger SRT8 are joined by the new 2014 Jeep® Grand Cherokee SRT and the SRT flagship 2013 Viper and Viper GTS models which are making their highly anticipated return to the high-performance sports car market.

Follow SRT and Chrysler Group news and video on:

SRT site: http://drivesrt.com

Twitter: www.twitter.com/drivesrt or www.twitter.com/chrysler

YouTube: http://www.youtube.com/drivesrt or http://www.youtube.com/pentastarvideo

Chrysler Connect blog: http://blog.chryslergroupllc.com

Streetfire: http://members.streetfire.net/profile/ChryslerVideo.htm

Corporate website: http://www.chryslergroupllc.com

-###-

Additional information and news from Stellantis are available at: https://media.stellantisnorthamerica.com