All-new Alfa Romeo 4C and New Dodge Charger Win '2015 MotorWeek Drivers' Choice Awards'

February 12, 2015, Auburn Hills, Mich. - MotorWeek,television's original automotive magazine, today announced that the all-new 2015 Alfa Romeo 4C is the winner of the publication's Driver's Choice award for "Best Performance Car," and the new 2015 Dodge Charger earned the title of "Best Sports Sedan."

Offering driving enthusiasts supercar-level performance, race-derived technology and seductive Italian style, the all-new 2015 Alfa Romeo 4C features a state-of-the-art carbon fiber monocoque chassis combined with manual steering and a turbocharged engine mated to a rapid-fire Alfa twin-clutch transmission for a visceral and highly connected driving experience, not to mention a 0-to-60 mph time of 4.1-seconds.

"The 2015 Alfa Romeo 4C delivers the exhilaration of a mega-buck Italian exotic sports car for a fraction of the price, " said John Davis, Host of MotorWeek. "It's truly a unique experience, and one that appeals to all the senses. The 4C is a car designed with one thing in mind, driving!"

As America's only four-door fastback-styled muscle car, the new 2015 Dodge Charger remains in a class of its own — from 300 horsepower models with best -in-class 31 mile per gallon highway V-6 fuel economy; to models with even more all-weather traction thanks to the segment's most innovative AWD system; to the quickest, fastest and most powerful sedan in the world – the Charger SRT Hellcat model delivering 707 horsepower, 650 lb.-ft. of torque and a top speed of 204 miles per hour — the depth of the new Charger range enables more performance, technology and refinement at every price point.

"No matter if it's on the street or the track, the new 2015 Dodge Charger is one of the best balanced four-doors we've ever driven," said Davis. "Plus, with constant improvement in all areas, not to mention the recent addition of the awesome 707-horsepower Charger SRT Hellcat model, it's clear that there's nothing retro about this new Dodge except its spirit of American-bred high performance."
