February 26, 2018, Auburn Hills, Mich. - Jeep® has been recognized as a 2018 "Cult Brand" Honoree at the annual The Gathering (Society of Cult Brands). Jeep is the first and only automotive brand to be recognized by the association. Eight brands, and their leaders, were honored at The Gathering in Banff, Alberta (Feb. 21-23) for their outstanding courage and unconventional thinking in achieving enviable brand engagement and reaping the benefits of cult-like status.

"Having the Jeep brand acknowledged as a Cult Brand Honoree, just as the all-new 2018 Jeep Wrangler and new 2019 Jeep Cherokee begin to arrive in dealerships, is a testament to the people who since 1941 have dedicated themselves to building the world's most capable SUVs with off-road capability that is second to none," said Mike Manley, Head of Jeep Brand – FCA. "The global Jeep community is like no other. There is no other automotive brand that is so instantly recognizable and woven into the history of its home nation yet recognized around the world, and one that is protected with such a passion by its owners, fans and followers."

"Other automotive brands have been nominated over the years, but it's so fitting that Jeep is the first Cult Brand Honoree. It's an iconic brand with vehicles that stand apart from any other in the automotive category," said Chris Kneeland, The Gathering co-founder and Chair of the Brand Selection Committee "Their marketing, product innovation and customer engagement are best-of-breed and represent exactly how cult brands foster internal and external brand engagement."

About The Gathering
